To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to recommend Christopher Coleman of Unlimited Leadership as a speaker for businesses, schools, or non-profit groups.

I have seen Christopher address the Chick-fil-A, Inc. corporate staff in two separate settings, and have witnessed how impactful his message has been.

Christopher is a gifted communicator with an incredible story to share. His message is inspirational and challenging, forcing you to view your circumstances through an entirely different lens. In each instance, he has connected with the audience in a powerful way, leaving them visibly moved.

If you are seeking a communicator that your audience will never forget, look no further than Christopher Coleman.

Sincerely,
